NEW ENGLAND PREPARES TO RUSH TROOPS

Boston & Maine Railroad Has Special Trains Ready to Move Men at Short Notice

Boston, April 23.—The war department expects to move 1000 men from Portland, Me. to New London, Conn., on short notice, according to a message received from Washington by the Boston and Maine railroad last night. Orders were added to have the road prepared to move the troops, and 20 cars which will be made up of two trains, were brought here from the car shops at Billerica and held subject to short call. The cars probably will be sent to Portland tomorrow to await orders there.

The troops which are to be moved were not mentioned in the orders, but it is believed they will be the coast artillery corps companies which are stationed at the forts in Portland harbor. It is believed here that they will be converted into infantry if pressed into the Mexican service.

To six months in jail, costs of $25, jail sentence suspended.

The remainder of the criminal cases will be given a jury trial early next week and it is the intention of County Solicitor Giffitt to clean up the criminal docket as far as possible.

Washington, April 23.—Private advices received here today in code from Mexico City disclosing that the American residents are in danger and have communicated with government officials. These dispatches which were from a course of unquestionable trustworthiness and bore date of today, set forth that the mob of Mexicans was formed for the purpose of wreaking vengeance on the Americans. The Americans were concentrated at the American embassy for mutual protection.

HANDS HIS PASSPORT

O'Shaughnessy Will Leave Mexico City Tonight or Friday Morning

Washington, April 23.—General Huerta has communicated the first act on part of Mexicans that will lead to open declaration of war with the United States. Charge O'Shaughnessy has been handed his passport and will leave Mexico City tonight or early Friday morning. Early today message received from Mr. O'Shaughnessy said: "Have been handed my passport, will leave Mexico City either tonight or Friday morning." This was the first word heard from Mr. O'Shaughnessy during the past 48 hours. The President was called from bed to hear the message read over the phone from Secretary Tumulty, who passed a sleepless night. Secretary Bryan was awakened at 2.30 o'clock and a phone conference followed with the President.

Charge Algerin, representative will leave here today. He is expected to send to the state department for his passport.

O'Shaughnessy is Given His Papers by Huerta

Admiral Badger Reports Twelve Americans Killed and Fifty Wounded in the Investment of Vera Cruz-- United States May Have to Fight United Mexican Nation

(Special to The Herald)

Washington, April 23.—Charge of Affairs Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the American representative at Mexico City has been handed his passports by the Huerta government.

A dispatch from Rear Admiral Badger made public by the navy department at 2.45 this morning states that 12 Americans have been killed and 50 wounded in the occupation of Vera Cruz. No announcement was given out after this morning's White House conference.

Washington, April 23.—General Carranza's note to President Wilson, declaring the seizure of Vera Cruz by American forces a violation of the national sovereignty of Mexico, inviting the United States to suspend hostile operations and withdraw its forces, and suggesting that the Constitutional government should receive demands for reparation of offenses committed by Huerta, stirred the Mexican situation to an acute crisis late last night.

The opposition to the American government's action, coming from an unexpected quarter after the Washington administration had hoped for an attitude of neutrality and passive observation from the Constitutionalists, brought the government face to face with possible hostility from the great body of Mexican forces lying in proximity to the Southern tier of the U. S.

Washington, April 22.—The American forces are in complete control of Vera Cruz. No non-combatants were injured in the fighting there. This word was received in a dispatch from Consul Canada this afternoon.

The White House gave out the following statement:

"Dispatches received from Consul Canada, at Vera Cruz, at 1.10 p. m., announced that the American forces are now in complete possession of the city; that apparently there were no fatalities among American and foreign non-combatants, and that firing had ceased except for occasional picket shots."

The American force began an advance to take the entire city of Vera Cruz at 8 a. m., under the guns of the warships. Consul Canada reports that 150 Mexicans were killed or wounded yesterday.

In Rear Admiral Fletcher's proclamation to the people of Vera Cruz he called upon them in the interests of humanity to operate with him in restoring order. He said they could carry on their municipal government as before, and that the United States would merely hold the Customhouse and patrol the city.

Latest Dispatch from Vera Cruz

Consul Canada's latest dispatch, which was filed at Vera Cruz early today, follows:

"Firing commenced at daylight. Ships now shelling southern part of city. Large force landed from Admiral Badger's fleet before daylight. Copies of proclamation issued by rear admiral requesting at once the cooperation of the Mayor and municipal authority in restoring order have been distributed, but have been unable as yet to get in communication with these officials.

"Major Butler's force of marines from Tampico are now ashore. Expect the city will be quiet later in the morning. Estimates of Mexicans killed and wounded up to last night approximately 150.

"Battleships here, Florida, Utah, Arkansas, Vermont, New Hampshire, New Jersey, South Carolina, Transport Frigate and Collier Orton. Transport Hancock with marines reported due. American forces advance 8 a. m., under guns of war vessels, to take city."

Landing Force Numbered 3000.

The Mexican sharpshooters occupied the roofs of houses in the central part of the city, and were able to fire down upon the American marines and bluejackets, as they neared the land from the vessels lying offshore.

The following communication was given the Kittery correspondent on Wednesday and will be read with interest: "Being greatly interested in the advancement of Christ's Kingdom, it was with great joy I learned of the re-appointment of Rev. Allison J. Hayes as pastor at the Second Methodist church in your village. Also do I learn that had it not been for the persistent effort of your Presiding Elder, Rev. D. B. Holt, and the loyalty of your pastor, there is not a shadow of a doubt but you would today be in 'sackcloth and ashes' as he could have had his choice of a half dozen most desirable charges. Mr. Hayes is a man of great integrity, and a most loyal servant to his high calling, standing out for purity in every sense of his word. During his pastorate in your village he has won a warm place in the hearts of the clergy in both Kittery and Portsmouth. I sincerely trust as a church you may rally about him in promoting righteous living in your town, and that God may add his richest blessing to you as a people, is the wish of a fellow worker."

MARINES GIVEN A
ROUSING FAREWELL

Company in Heavy Marching Order
Left for Mexico--Crowd Line
Street and Cheer--Friends at the Depot.

The first detachment of marines from this city to leave for the front, got away at 7.30 on Wednesday evening, and with a great send off from a large crowd of people.

The company consisting of 112 men in command of Captain James T. Buttrick, U. S. M. C., left the navy yard equipped in heavy marching order wearing the new olive uniform for duty in the tropics, and they made a very fine appearance, looking what they are a very fine body of soldiers. They came to this side of the river on the navy tug and headed by the naval band marched up Daniel, to Congress to Vaughan to Deer streets to the depot.

The streets were well crowded with spectators and they were very enthusiastic. Automobile horns were kept going and the crowds on the sidewalk repeatedly cheered the marines as they passed.

At the depot there was a crowd of two or more thousand people, among them, wives, relatives and sweethearts of the marines, and there were many affecting scenes at the parting. Two special cars were provided, and these were attached to the regular Boston train. There was plenty of time allowed the men for farewells, and noticeable in the crowd were many marines, who one and all envied their comrades in being able to go to the front.

Captain Buttrick, who has made a host of friends since he has been stationed here, had many friends at the depot to bid him good by and wish him good luck.

The company on their arrival at Boston were joined by a detachment from the Charlestown yard, and left for New York at 10 o'clock. They will go direct to Philadelphia, where the battalion is being gathered, and they are due to leave this afternoon on the steamer Moro Castle for Vera Cruz.

A CALL FOR CORN

The extreme demand for gasoline for automobiles and other engines is lifting the price of that fuel to forty cents a gallon, where it will be in a short time, said Professor Benjamin T. Brooks at the convention of chemists at Cincinnati. At that price the expert says alcohol will become a native competitor with gasoline, and then this country can proceed to make the demerol stuff from corn and other materials, as was proposed a few years ago. Brooks said the present production of gasoline in this country annually is 25,000,000 barrels of forty-two gallons each, and that cannot be increased to a great extent. The demand is larger than that now. To replace that amount of gasoline by ninety-six per cent alcohol would consume 450,000,000 bushels of corn, the expert said, and therefore it is time for the farmers to get ready to raise more corn. They need not let their nerves fret about forcing men to eat the corn, or drink it as whiskey to dispose of the larger crop. The flying machines are going by the million before long, and then there will be more demand for liquid fuel for the fast little engines. Hurry along the corn, Joseph is not on earth now to store it in the crude way of old, but there are others who know how to make better use of the corn. Every farmer should have a distillery to turn the corn, potatoes and refuse of other vegetables into fuel alcohol. That is about all alcohol is to be used for by and by.

CITY COUNCIL DISAGREE ON SCHOOLHOUSE LOT

Mayor Yeaton called a special meeting of the Council on Wednesday evening at the Council Chamber at eight o'clock to take action on a gift of a lot of land by Thomas A. Ware to the city. The meeting was called at eight o'clock but at eleven o'clock the Councilmen were still in the Mayor's room and from the sounds that came out into the corridor they were still arguing.

The members of the Council arrived at the Mayor's office some time before eight o'clock and from that time until eleven o'clock the council were in the Mayor's office with laws books etc. Evidently no decision was arrived at for at eleven o'clock the Mayor notified City Clerk Drew who had been waiting, that there would be no meeting.

OLDEST RESIDENT
PASSED AWAY

A peaceful end to a peaceful life came to Mrs. Sophia Steel Wood, widow of James Wood, yesterday. She was the oldest resident of Portsmouth having lived 97 years, four months and eight days. It is not too much to say that she had enjoyed it all. Toward the close she recited old-time verses she had learned as a child in England.

Mrs. Wood lived with her daughter, Mrs. R. H. Perkins, at No. 83 Cabot street. A week ago she became slightly ill with a cold, which was given careful attention by her daughter and granddaughter, Miss Viva Perkins. On Sunday last she became suddenly worse and Dr. A. W. Hanford was called in. Later pneumonia developed. She retained her faculties almost to the end, which came at 3.10 o'clock yesterday afternoon. At her bedside were all her children, Mrs. Perkins, Charles J. Wood of Portsmouth and Albert E. Wood of New York, who arrived in Portsmouth Monday morning.

A native of Devonshire, England, as was her husband, Mrs. Wood came to Portsmouth with her husband and daughter in 1853. Mr. Wood died in 1900 aged 104 years. Had he lived a month longer he would have seen three centuries.

Like her husband, Mrs. Wood outlived all the members of her family. She resented in her mild way all efforts to keep her from assisting in the lightest house duties and recently she had many little articles, one of these now the treasured keepsake of the Rev. Mr. Stanley of the Baptist church, of which Mrs. Wood was a member to the last. It was bought at the recent church fair.

Besides Miss Viva Perkins, Mrs. Wood leaves three grandchildren: Miss Jane W. Perkins, Latin teacher in the Watertown high school, Mass.

Albert E. Wood, Jr., of the Carnegie Technical Institute senior class in civil engineering, Pittsburgh, and the Misses Margaret D. and Frances E. Wood of Brooklyn Borough, New York City.

TALKS ON THRIFT

Thrift—The Mainstay of the Nation.

"When he threw himself so energetically into the movement for the conservation of our natural resources, Theodore Roosevelt with statesmanlike pertinacity, compelled the nation to heed his warning and by dint of persistent reiteration awoke the public conscience to a realization of conditions that were fast leading to bankruptcy and ruin."—The Literary Digest.

Thrift in the individual and thrift in the government are more closely related than is often realized.

Here is a great truth, a truth which it was high time several million people were beginning to realize.

They cry for economy, for the elimination of waste in government, and they do not practice economy, they do not eliminate waste in their business or in their private affairs. Only as we as a people become individually more thrifty—that is, more saving, more economical, more conserving—can we expect our councils, our legislatures, our congress to be likewise.

Consider thrift in its relation to the industry of the country.

If everybody would spend his entire income every year there never would be any capital for investment beyond that which is already invested; no new enterprises could be floated, and improvements of all kinds, public and private, would be at an end. The world's supply of new capital is simply the margin between the world's income and its expenditures.

If we had more thrift we would have more temperance. How generally useful the money spent for the 70,000,000 gallons of whisky we drank in the last half of 1913 would be if turned into constructive industry now!

Nor for the benefits of thrift to be measured wholly in terms of economies. The steadiness, the industry, the sobriety, the respect for property, which are fostered among thrifty and frugal people are political virtues and make for stability and permanence of government.

The habitual spendthrift is a menace to the community and the nation; the careful citizen guided by a sense of the true value of property is a safeguard to our institutions. Habits of extravagance tend to make trouble in the family.

An "American Society for Thrift" has been organized in Chicago with the avowed purpose of "promoting habitually the individual thrift which is the basis of good citizenship and community prosperity."

Men of prominence, including governors of several states, are back of this movement, which aims to advocate a broad and sensible view of economy, pointing out to the people that as a great English statesman said, "Thrift is not meanness, but management."

The continued rise in the cost of living, unaccompanied to any great extent by a corresponding increase of individual incomes, is making many an American family right about face in the matter of personal and domestic economy.

Perhaps the new tariff will reduce the cost of living eventually, but it hasn't yet. Possibly governmental investigation commissions may lead to that consummation, but there are no signs of it yet. And no other panacea has been found for it. Apparently therefore for the present at least, there is no hope of abating the steady rise in the price of everyday necessities, and so far, no way has been found to beat the high cost of living, except to stop living so high.

Is it not quite possible that in good old fashioned thrift may be found the solution of the difficult problem of living up to modern standards under modern conditions?

HAS COME TO STAY.

Th long-drawn-out winter has gone at last, and among the most conspicuous evidences of spring is the automobile, which in many parts of the country has had a longer rest than usual. But it returns punctually with the robins and blue-birds and bids fair to appear in greater numbers this year than ever before.

There is no longer room for doubt that the automobile has come to stay. When it first appeared it was believed by many that it would follow the bicycle into temporary popularity and then go out of use, as the bicycle has so largely done. But the automobile is a machine of such practical utility, in addition to its value as a pleasure vehicle, that it is not easy to see how it can ever be set aside unless something better comes along to take its place.

As a road vehicle there has never been anything equal to approach it in excellence. It provides comfort and speed, and is as safe as any means of transportation when properly handled. The wrecks and killings that are reported so frequently are not the fault of the machines, but are due to careless and reckless manipulation. The automobile is more comfortable and dependable than any horse, and in proper hands is a safe, comfortable and speedy means of getting from one place to another.

And its use is not confined to pleasure by any means. The automobile is one of the best friends of physicians and their patients, enabling the former to reach the latter in less time than would be possible by any other means. And the increasing use of auto trucks, light and heavy, shows how rapidly the machine is taking its place in the world of business. In some places the auto bus has become an important factor and there is reason to expect that the use of these will greatly increase in the next few years. With the roads of the country being improved as they are, there is no reason why these machines should not come into common use as public conveyances where there is not enough traffic to warrant the building of trolley railways, of which on the right kind of roads they would make excellent substitutes.

The building of automobiles is today one of the leading industries of the country, and it is an industry that is bound to increase, for nothing is more certain than that this form of conveyance has come to stay.

THE DEPARTURE OF THE MARINES.

That was certainly an inspiring sight when the Portsmouth marines marched for the front on Wednesday evening. A finer looking set of men never shouldered a gun and old Portsmouth did herself proud in turning out to give the brave lads a parting send off.

Some seven thousand people lined the streets and with applause and cheers showed them their feelings. The applause and cheers showed the men their feelings. The corps is without doubt the most forceful arm of the government's defense, man for man.

Again it has been demonstrated that there is some danger attached to the office of mayor of New York, although Mayor Mitchell escaped more fortunately than did Mayor Gaynor. But we are living in an age of high tension and, while it is regrettable, it is perhaps not strange that now and then some crack-brained individual should attempt to right his imaginary wrongs with a revolver.

Colonel Goethals also stands with the president on the tolls question. "I have always maintained," he says, "that the government should obtain revenue from every ship using the canal, and that it is not the coastwise trade that needs protection." But that sort of talk will not suit the subsidy seekers.

In a speech the other day a congressman is reported to have said that party platforms stand for little, and that most men don't know or care what is in them. Was there some truth in that statement?

The late ex-Governor Draper of Massachusetts left $234,000 in public bequests, but the balance of his $3,000,000 estate should make his three children fairly comfortable.

Sir Thomas Lipton is reported to be having two Shamrocks built for his next attempt to life the America's cup. He will be lucky if he gets a winner out of the pair.

The next White House wedding is to be a quiet affair, but the interest in it will be nation-wide nevertheless. The date set for the event is May 7.

We are a rapid moving people. Numerous cities that have just emerged from the snows of winter are already planning their Fourth of July celebrations.

The Colorado coal strike has cost $15,000,000 and the end is not yet in sight. A mighty bill is being run up for the "ultimate consumer."

ENJOYED BY THE INMATES

Masonic Quartet Gives Pleasing Musical Program at Mark H. Wentworth Home.

It was good fortune and a great musical treat to listen at the Mark H. Wentworth home Wednesday evening, to an entertainment given by the Masonic Quartet, an organization of which Portsmouth may well be proud. It has been in existence for quite a number of years, its present organization comprising Ernest L. Cook, 1st tenor; John W. Mitchell, 2d tenor; Charles W. Gray, 1st bass; Horace P. Montgomery, 2d bass—and a better combination of voices can seldom be found. We have enjoyed the singing of a number of prominent and famous quartettes hailing from other cities, but on Wednesday evening the songs and quartettes seemed to equal any that have ever been given by visitors in this city.

The accompanists were Miss Marion McIntire and Mr. W. W. McIntire on the piano, with Miss Helen G. McIntire, violinist. They gave a most delightful hour to the "Home" and its friends, with the following program: Quartette, "Winter Song," Ballard; Violin solo, "Twilight Idyl," Schnecker; Miss Helen G. McIntire, Tenor solo, "Down," Somerset; Quartette, "When the Corn is Waving," Annie Dear, Buck Duet, "Acquaint Thyself with Him," Buck; Messrs. Montgomery and Gray, Violin solo, (a) Musette's Waltz, from La Boheme.

(b) The Songs my Mother Taught, Mr. Mas McIntire, Dvorak; Quartette, "Teverly," Storeh; "In Absence," Buck; Tenor solo, "A Dream," Barlett; Quartette, "Sunset," Yande Water.

VALLEY FARM IS PRESENTED

Large Audience Witnesses Successful Production at Association Hall

The rural drama "Valley Farm" was given under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary, V. M. C. A., in Association Hall, Wednesday evening, April 22 to a large and appreciative audience.

The cast of characters made up of New Castle talent is as follows:

Cast of Characters.
Harold Rutledge, a young New Yorker, Mr. William Duphill
Percy Dean, a son of the soil,
Mr. Charles Parker
David Hildreth, a New York lawyer,
Mr. Roy Prohaska
Silas Holcomb, owner of Valley Farm,
Mr. Richard Poole
Azariah Keep, a clock maker,
Mr. Winifred Hall
Jennings, servant at Rutledge mansion,
Mr. Ralph Eaton
Hetty Holcomb, daughter of Silas,
Miss Mae Pettigrew
Isabelle Carney, niece to David Hildreth,
Mrs. Charles Craig
Mrs. Rutledge, Harold's mother,
Mrs. Joseph Boylston
Alvira Holcomb, sister of Silas,
Mrs. Oliver B. Marvin
Lizy Ann Tucker, who borrows but "never gossips," Mrs. Kenneth Stuart
Verbera, hired girl at the farm,
Miss Marion Tarlton

Synopsis.
Act I.—Valley Farm. An afternoon in August. The engagement.
Act II.—The Rutledge mansion, New York City, the following December. The serpent has crept into Eden.
Act III.—Same as before, three weeks later. Parted.
Act IV.—At the farm again. An evening in the next March. The triumph of love.

It is a play that touches the heart and awakens the conscience. Then as the story proceeds there are many thrilling climaxes in which the participants did clever and effective dramatic work. All the roles were handled with capability by the cast.

Mrs. Joseph Boylston and Mrs. Charles Craig in their ultra-fashionable role including the "7-24" society ladies, were perfect realizations of their parts. Mae Pettigrew interpreted the part of a farmer's daughter to perfection. Rev. Charles Parker as a son of the soil could not have been finer. William Duphill was an ideal lover. Roy Prohaska made a capable lawyer. Winifred Hall was the very essence of an eccentric clock maker. Mr. Richard Poole was well costumed as a farmer, while Mr. Ralph Eaton as an up-to-date butler could not have acquitted himself better. Mrs. Oliver Marvin never fails to relax your features and her role in "Valley Farm" was no exception to the rule. Mrs. Kenneth Stuart as Lizy Ann Tucker, who borrows but "never gossips" very cleverly personified the part. Miss Marion Tarlton in the capacity of the gawky hired girl could not have been more amusing.

This four act rural domestic drama was extravagantly funny and laughable, and brimful of the most amusing situations.

The ushers were Messrs. Walter Mulholland, Clayton Mugridge and John Hassett.

The girls who sold candy were Misses Nellie Locklin, Phyllis Hodgdon and McNabb.

Music was furnished by New Castle talent.

The committee in charge was Mrs. Joseph Boylston, Mrs. Edsworth Hodgdon, Mrs. T. F. Billings, Mrs. Frank J. Dickford and Miss Fay Trueman.

Mrs. John C. Sweetser acted as treasurer.

CURRENT OPINION

Women in Politics Making For Better Race.

Women are responsible for the new philosophy of government. This new philosophy is worldwide—belongs to no party, no sect, no sex. The new philosophy believes that the government's purpose is to make people happier, to make them better. The only successful government is the one that succeeds in doing this.

The attainment of the ballot by the women of California has added not only a great moral reservoir of resource, but there has also come a progressive force, unhampered by the traditions of party that sometimes make men slow to move on to new things. If we can bring men up to this standard, then partisanship will disappear in the consideration of better things for humanity.—Governor Hiram Johnson of California.

Selections by orchestra.

Presentation of Grace, entitled: "Freezing a Mother-in-law" with the following cast of young amateurs:
Mr. Watnuff ..... Ralph Berry
Mrs. Watnuff ..... Donald Finklayson
Miss Emily Watnuff ..... George Downs
Walter Litherland ..... George Parsons
Percy Dean ..... Frank Peck
The young actors handled the play admirably well and the production was under the management of Donald Finklayson. Each individual part was characteristically interpreted.

The music committee consisted of George Parsons and Henry Concanon.

At the conclusion of the entertainment refreshments of ice cream and cake were served in the lower hall.

The following were in charge: Forleigh Johnson, Ralph Downs, Ralph Ramsdell, George Downs, Henry Concanon, Gay Caswell and Ralph Berry.

A tempting candy table was in charge of Alfred Belcher and Russell Pierce.

Gay Caswell had charge of the box office and Darleigh Johnson acted in the capacity of ticket taker.

This is another added to their previous successes and was greatly enjoyed. This up-to-the-minute organization of youths have made good from the start and continue with great enthusiasm.

Here's to the success of the annual entertainment in 1915.

EX-SERVICE MEN READY

Have Signified Their Intention of Becoming Members of Coast Artillery in Event of War

The regular weekly drill of the First company was held at the Armory on Tuesday evening with a good attendance. During the evening drill work and drill in the loadings and firings was taken up using dummy ammunition.

Major C. B. Hoyt was present during the drill and was pleased with the work. It may not be generally known that the standard of physical examination for membership in any national guard company is the same as that of the regular army.

Young, unmarried men between the ages of 18 and 25 of good character and habits are the men who make up the recruits of the army and national guard.

Under existing orders the First company can only have 66 enlisted men, and at the present time there are a few places still unfilled.

When orders come to place the company on a war basis the membership limit will be 110 men.

A number of ex-service men have signified their intention of becoming members of the First Company in the event of the National Guard being called out by the President. Applications for membership may be secured at the Armory any Tuesday evening from the officers of the company.

BUSINESS PASSES RESOLUTION UPHOLDING THE PRESIDENT

Senate's Amendments Accepted by the House Without Debate--Gives President Right to Employ Armed Forces.

The house concurred Wednesday morning in the senate substitute resolution justifying the President in the use of armed forces in Mexico. There was no debate and the vote was almost unanimous. At 12:03 Speaker Clark signed the document which then went to the White House. When the House convened at 10 o'clock Monday, Speaker Underwood announced that the Senate justification resolution was not engrossed, and a ten-minute recess was taken. Representative Flood, chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, moved that the House concur in the Senate justification resolution when the session resumed after recess. He moved that there be no conference.

The House then voted the resolution and recessed at 10:35 o'clock. At 11:30, to allow time for the engrossment of the Mexican resolution, it was signed at that time by Speaker Clark and then went immediately to the White House.

Text of the Resolution

The text of the resolution as finally passed is as follows:

In view of the facts presented by the President of the United States in his address to Congress in joint session on the 20th of April, 1914, with regard to certain affronts and indignities committed against the United States in Mexico.

Resolved, That the President is justified in the employment of the armed forces of the United States to enforce his demand for unequivocal amends for the affronts and indignities committed against the United States. Be it further

Resolved, That the United States disclaims any hostility to the Mexican people or any purpose to make war upon them.

No Need of Money Grant.

Majority Leader Underwood announced today that he did not expect the House to act on any bill appropriating money for war purposes in Mexico at the present time. "We have plenty of money now under the President's explicit march to Mexico City," said Mr. Underwood. "As far as I know, the President has no such intention."

Informal discussion was heard on the Senate side of the Capitol today regarding an emergency appropriation to provide for the national defense, but the leaders contend that the time is not quite ripe for such action. As the subject of the Spanish War, Congress rushed through a $50,000,000 appropriation for an emergency fund for unlimited unconditional use in the discretion of President McKinley. Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, however, has introduced a bill to provide a $50,000,000 emergency appropriation. Chairman Martin and Chairman Fitzgerald of the Senate and House Appropriations Committee, respectively, declared that an emergency appropriation was unnecessary, yet, as there were plenty of men and vessels and equipment now in Mexican waters. Both, however, said that when the time came there would be no delay in providing the necessary funds.

Flood Addresses House.

In addressing the House in support of the substitute for the House resolution of justification, Mr. Flood said that when he introduced the original resolution Monday he believed it was in the proper form to carry out the purpose outlined in the address of the President.

"The original resolution made it clear that this country was not hostile to the Mexican people," said Mr. Flood, "and did not desire to make war on Mexico."

"The Senate amendment states this in so many words. The substance of this resolution is, therefore, unchanged. In this momentous hour, and in the circumstances confronting this country, prompt action justifying and approving the course of the President is of the utmost importance, and it would be childish to quibble over the words of the resolution when the substance is the same; and this is the view of the President. I fear that an attempt has been made by gentlemen on the other side to make partial capital of the present unfortunate situation between this country and Mexico. I hope the gentlemen have exhausted their misguided efforts. In that direction and that this House will give its approval to the Chief Executive of this nation without a single dissent."

Means War, Says Mann

"I do not believe that we ought to engage in a war with Mexico at this time for the reason suggested by the President," said Representative Mann, who followed Mr. Flood.

"Mr. Speaker, if we pass this resolution we have entered on war. Already we have fired on and killed Mexican citizens already involved in war in Mexico. I believe we ought to be patriotic enough to try to secure peace. I have believed 'watchful waiting' policy would involve us in war. I had hoped we might prevent it."

As Speaker Clark closed with poised hand about to attach his signature to the resolution, Representative Mann made the point that he was acting without authority, as it was necessary for the Senate to be informed that the House concurred in its substitute. The Speaker replied that he had no doubt Mr. Mann was technical, and thereupon Representative Underwood said that he would move that the House recess until noon

DORIS KEANE'S SECOND WEEK IN "ROMANCE" AT THE WILBUR THEATRE, BOSTON

The second week of Doris Keane in Edward Sheldon's "Romance" at the Wilbur Theatre, Boston, begins Monday night.

"Romance" has evidently struck the public fancy in Boston with more than ordinary emphasis, for Miss Keane has played to some remarkable business, showing that the young star has excited considerable interest quite apart from public curiosity to see the new theatre. The Wilbur is Boston's first word in theatre architecture. It is destined to be known as the most beautiful theatre in the country.

The charm of "Romance" is twofold. First, we have the brilliantly original creation of a role new to the stage—a temperamental Italian prima donna raised from a primitive social condition to enjoyment of excessive luxury by the possession of a God-given talent; and second, we have a charming love narrative between two diametrically opposed human beings, whose love is doomed to disappointment even before it has been expressed. The episode that comes to Tom Armstrong when he meets the worldly-wise and beautiful Cavallini, while empty in itself, for the reason that it leads to nowhere, exercises an influence upon his throughout his entire and lengthy life as he demonstrates

Delay Volunteer Army Bill

Members of the House Military Affairs Committee, including Chairman Hays, decided early in the day not to concur in the Senate amendments to the volunteer army bill, but to ask for a conference with the Senate. They did this, believing that the need for raising a volunteer army for Mexican service is remote enough to justify delay caused by the conference. Senator Shively, acting chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, was one of the first senators to reach the Capitol. He said that although he committee today he did not contemplate any further discussion in committee of Mexican affairs at the present time.

SCOLLAY SQUARE OLYMPIA

The Scollay Square Olympia, Boston's newest and most magnificent vaudeville theatre, which is quickly identified as the home of the $50,000 organ and the high class quality of its entertainment, has established itself as the leading amusement centre in Boston. The theatre is located in Scollay Square, only a few steps from Tremont street, and offers each week a bill comprising vaudeville and feature photo-plays that runs approximately, without a repeat, four hours. For the week of May 4th the management has secured "Tess of the Storm Country" the most striking photo production made. The picture, which features that popular favorite Mary Pickford, is presented in five parts. Miss Pickford is seen in the strongest role of her career. The picture is filled with thrilling incidents and unusual charm. The presentation of this picture, which alone is well worth the price of admission, is merely an addition to the regular bill.

The management is also offering at their down town house, Gordon's Olympia on Washington street, opposite Boylston street, for the first three days of the same week, "Judith of Bethulia," the new photo play produced and presented in four parts. Those who have witnessed this remarkable work declare that it is the best biblical production yet offered. If you enjoy the latest achievements in motion photography you should not miss seeing either of these two productions. In fact you ought to see them. Remember that the prices at these playhouses are popular and there is always something doing from 9.20 in the morning until 10.30 at night. Both theatres give an excellent Sunday night concert starting at 7 and concluding at 10.30 without a repeat.

WATER CROSSES CAPE COD

Shutaway Connecting the Two Bays is Opened—Small Vessels May Sail Through by July 4

Buzzards Bay, April 22.—The sluiceway in Foley's Dike, connecting Cape Cod Bay and Buzzards Bay, was opened yesterday and the waters raced through and intermingled in continuous waterway. The actual destruction of the intervening dike will not take place until late in June, as there is still a small section which is not dredged down to the stated depth of twenty-five feet. President Belmont expressed his hope that on July 4 the canal may be opened for ships drawing not more than ten or twelve feet of water. On June 21 it will have been five years since Mr. Belmont turned the first shovelful of earth for the canal, so it is possible this date will be selected for the official opening.
